Flight screening program might put Airbase in action

Hondo Airbase is going to be buzzing with flying activity again soon, but to what extent this will be had not been announced at Anvil Herald press time this week. Unofficial sources say the Hondo Airbase will be the site of a civilian contractor flying activity supervised by the Air Training Command at Randolph AFB. And a spokesman in the Washington office of U. S. Senator John Tower said Tuesday in a telephone interview with the Anvil Herald that this is highly probable.

"There is no evidence at this moment that a final decision has been made," the spokesman said late Tuesday.

"But from all information available to this office at this time Senator Tower feels certain that a positive decision will be made in the near future," the spokesman added.

The Anvil Herald has been unable to determine the overall impact this decision will have on Hondo and the surrounding area but from all indications it could be significant.

"Senator Tower is vitally interested in development in Texas and especially in the rural areas, the spokesman said, "and he is giving his wholehearted support to this program in Hondo."

What can be learned is an earlier decision which brought about these plans for the Hondo Airbase. That previous decision was approved by the Air Force and Congress and released in a news story dated June 1, 1972. It read:

"The Air Force announced today (June 1, 1972) a consolidated flight screening program which will save the Air Force an estimated $2, - 300,000 in initial annual savings.

"The present flight screening program uses contractor operated T-41 prop driven Cessnas to determine the flying attributes of candidate pilots prior to entry into the more expensive T-37 and T-38 jet aircraft training.

Since July 1965 the program was conducted at airfields within close proximity of each of the undergraduate pilot training bases of Air Training Command. It applied to all undergraduate pilot candidates.

As a result of a test conducted in 1971 it is now being determined that flight screening is not necessary for those undergraduate pilot training students who have completed a US Air Force sponsored light plane program such as the Air Force Academy pilot indoctrination program and the Air Force Reserve Officers flight instruction program. This will enable the Air Force to consolidate T-41 training at Lackland AFB for pilot candidates attending Officer Training School.

This centralized program will enable the AF to determine the flying attributes of the OTS pilot candidates prior to their being commissioned. Existing facilities at a civilian airfield near Lackland will be used.

AACOG studies diplomas

Hondo may have an adult education program as a result of action taken in Tuesday evening's AACOG meeting at City Hall.

Officials of San Antonio College Bob Dalglish and Joan Wells, were present to outline a proposed high school equivalency program for Hondo adults which would take persons who dropped out or did not finish school after having completed the eighth grade. The 60-hour program would allow them to earn a diploma via the General Education Development Tests. Dalglish cited a similar program in Pearsall as an example of the success which can be obtained in educating adults.

In order for the college to bring this program to Hondo, at least 15 students would be needed. A turnout of more than 30 students would allow a split program of two classes, of 15 students each, so that individual attention would still be possible. Cost to the student would be $15 for the course.

For diploma programs for persons who did not reach the eighth grade in school, Dalglish suggested that education officials from Bexar County be contacted, as San Antonio College has no program of that kind as yet.

Another program named Project "Get Smart" could be brought to Hondo and other area cities at no charge. "Get Smart" programs design, prepare, and teach distributive education programs for any subject or area desired by the community, provided sufficient interest is shown in that subject. Proposed programs include secretarial, business management, and agricultural curricula.

An education committee was appointed to study the program. Members of the committee are Hondo School Superintendent Kenneth Florey, Chairman; and Tom Santos, Henry Dominguez, County Judge Jerome Decker, Devine Supt. Rice or Supt. elect Barnhart, and two more persons to be designated by Castroville Mayor Sam Tschirhart and John J. Nester of D'Hanis.

Castroville's Park project plans are now being reviewed in Washington, D.C., and action is expected before August 21. If approved, the project will provide for 120 acres of parkland, plus a grant of $200,000 to Castroville.

E. L. Abbott of the Medina Valley Soil Conservation Service announced that a preliminary investigation into a flood control program for Hondo's East side will be held sometime in November. He stressed that public interest in the project will be the determining factor in how quickly a program can be set up, and that public hearings will be held concerning any plan that is developed as a result of the investigation.

Judge Decker, reporting on the Seco Watershed Flood Control Project in D'Hanis, announced that all easements are now signed for the Parker's Creek dam, and that the project has been passed on to the Edwards Underground Water District for approval.

greeted with a warm welcome at the Medina County Museum Board meeting Monday night.

They were Lonny Taylor, curator and director of the Windale Properties in Round Top, Texas, who has visited the Museum prior to Monday night, and Dan Traverso, a museum consultant for the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

During the two hour meeting, which included a tour of the Museum, the two visitors gave helpful, professional advice concerning methods of cataloging items and preparing displays. Suggestions for planning future exhibits and for obtaining financial aid also were made.

Favorably impressed with the number of worthwhile items already on display, the two emphasized that the Museum is a real asset to the community.

"You are an educational institution," Taylor said at the close of the meeting.

St. Louis Day arrives

CASTROVILLE--Few people who frequent church festivals ever receive a treat to compare with their visit to Castroville's "granddaddy" of all church picnics, the famous St. Louis Day Celebration, which is slated Sunday, August 20.

"The Little Alsace of Texas," Castroville is once again bracing for this annual spectacle, scheduled this year for Sunday, August 20.

The gala celebration has come a long way since that first parish picnic back in 1889. Last year 12,000 merrymakers crammed into Koenig Park, site of the festival, on the banks of the Medina River, to be fed and then entertained.

Tri-chairmen of this year's festival, William Terry Tschirhart, Sylvan Stein and Aciano Lascano have been busy selecting the numerous committee chairmen and coordinating their all important activities as the wheels of the giant celebration machine have been set into motion. They include:

Mrs. Jo Brieden, president of St. Ann's Society, and the officers of the society are in charge of kitchen activities. Other committee chairmen are as follows: tables, Connie Rihn; meal tickets, R. J. Schott; workers meal tickets, Billy and Colleen Brieden; daytime beer stands, John Boehme; night beer stands, Ray Griggs; beer tickets, V. L. and Claude Tondre; and soda water, Mark Kempf and the CYO.

Also named were games, Alex and Marian Tschirhart; draw, Pat and Dorothy Ahr. Please turn to Page 3

Letters from the mailbox

Dear Sir:

Mrs. R. W. Speece enjoys reading about her friends in the Hondo Anvil Herald and looks forward to receiving it each week.

We thought that Mrs. Maybelle Speece's many friends would be interested to know she's well, and last Sunday enjoyed a surprise birthday dinner party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Longmoor, her daughter and son-in-law.

Many friends and all her children--Jack and his son, Richard, and daughter, Wanda, from Arlington, Walter, Bonita Proctor and Bernice Longmoor of San Antonio helped her celebrate her 86th birthday. We hope to enjoy celebrating many more with you.

Thank you for reporting this in your paper.

Bernice Longmoor
(Mrs. Hugh W.)

I do want to compliment you on the last two issues which were most interesting to read as they covered news items of all of Medina County and were most complete in details.

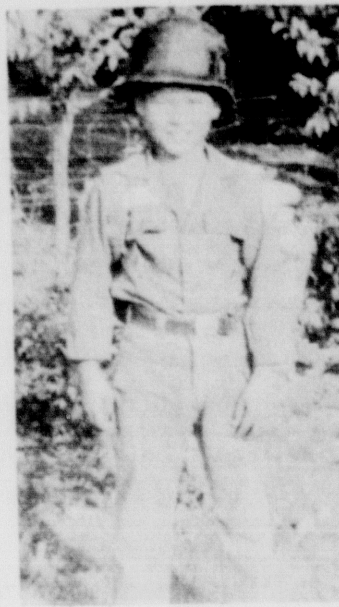

Thank you,
Sincerely,

No injury in car-train mishap

A Hondo man escaped injury late Monday afternoon as his car was struck by a slow moving Southern Pacific switch engine at the Avenue M crossing in Hondo. The accident occurred about 5:15 p.m.

Police said a car driven by Pilar Cantu, Jr. of 1607 14th St. in Hondo was struck in the rear as it crossed ahead of the engine.

Cantu escaped without injury and his car was not seriously damaged.

A sailor all the way!

Way back during World War II Margarito Gamboa of Hondo served in the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Mahan which was damaged so badly it had to be destroyed off Leyte. But not before the destroyer's crew took a toll of five of the nine attacking aircraft. Years later young Johny Gamboa wanted to be like his daddy, so he tried on his uniforms at age two (left) and five (center). But he finally made up his mind, for he recently left the Navy after completing four years on July 21, 1972. Johnny served on the USS Vulcan and the USS San Diego.

Supt. Flory tells of free lunch policy

The Superintendent of Schools today announced the free lunch policy for Hondo Independent School District school children unable to pay for their lunch.

Local School Officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist in determining eligibility:

TFS	FAI
One	$0 - 2130
Two	0 - 2790
Three	0 - 3450
Four	0 - 4110
Five	0 - 4770
Six	0 - 5330
Seven	0 - 5880
Eight	0 - 6430
Nine	0 - 6980
Ten	0 - 7430
Eleven	0 - 7980
Twelve	0 - 8430

TFS - Total Family Size;
FAI - Family Annual Income.

Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free lunches for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school lunches. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Under the provisions of the policy, the principal of the child's school will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official, he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision. Kenneth Flory, Superintendent of Schools, whose address is 2608 Avenue H, has been designated as the Hearing Official. Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification of or discrimination against any student unable to pay the cost of a lunch.

Library News

Hondo Public Library still has not received the certificates for the Summer Reading Program. Mrs. Lottie Maw, Librarian, assures the members that these will be awarded just as soon as the State Library forwards them to us.

Friends of the Library presented the library a check for $100, out of which were purchased two high swivel stools for use at our counter and other needed supplies and equipment. This was made possible through the auspices of A. D. Patterson and Mrs. Lillian Schweers, president and secretary, respectively, of the Friends.

There are a lot of mystery stories among the 90 paperbacks contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Meyer. The other books cover a variety of subjects.

Donations of magazines from the Paul Reilly family and the book, "Gore's Bridge Complete," from Louise Landers are recent additions to our shelves.

The library's helpers, Lupe Martinez and Edna Molina, completed their current Neighborhood Youth Corps assignment last week. N. Y. C. will probably send us two more assistants within the next few weeks when it is refunded.

Staff and Board members have completed and sent in application for funds from the State Library and hope to have favorable news from this in the near future.

of mothers everywhere, I am sure. It is a special concern that dwells only in the hearts of mothers for they are a special breed and I hope God just keeps on making them the way he has for thousands of years.

By the way, have you told your mother you love her recently? I told mine so again this past weekend and the light it brought into her eyes left a memory worth cherishing for a million years.

SATURDAY NIGHT

... is a big night in Hondo and we hope that all residents will be mingling on the square at the annual Carnival and Dance sponsored by the Hondo Volunteer Fire Department.

The idea to get everyone out to support this worthwhile event is behind the Salute to the Hondo Fire Department readers will find in this issue of the Arvil Herald.

The Salute is made possible by civic minded businesses and individuals who realize the important role the Firemen play in the everyday activities of Hondo and the surrounding area community.

They know that the Firemen spend many hours of volunteer time training and then putting that training into action in case of a fire. They know that the degree of proficiency attained by the Hondo Firemen can mean a big difference in the fire insurance rate throughout the city.

Hondo is fortunate. Its Firemen have performed so well over the years that the city enjoys one of the lowest key insurance rates of any city in Texas. They have earned us this rate because they are trained and have the equipment to perform an outstanding job.

The Hondo Volunteer Fire Department has three fund-raising projects during the year, the Sausage Supper, the Carnival and Dance and a fund drive in the Fall.

In addition to thanking the Firemen for a fine job, the advertisers in this Salute also wish to focus attention on the Department and its big Carnival and Dance Saturday night.

Come on out and enjoy yourself. How many times can you have fun and know at the same time it will provide you future protection!

Plans told for extension work on FM 1283 near lake

Plans are ready for the extension of FM 1283 (old 1608) north from Medina to the Bandera County line according to an announcement at the Commissioners Court meeting Monday.

Highway Department engineers told Commissioners they were ready and were waiting on final purchase of the rights-of-way which they were told should be made by yesterday (Wednesday).

The work will hard surface some 2,617 miles of the road that will eventually connect with Park Road 37 in Bandera County.

Commissioners requested an extension of FM 1676 through New Fountain and Quilbi to Rio Medina and were told that it will have to go into the planning hopper.

Other action saw the Court study a plat for a proposed sub-division near Devine and hear a request by Clint Boehme to divide his land into 10-20 acre plots for sale.

The Court had entertained the idea of obtaining tax valuation statistics from the Hondo Independent School District to use in assessing taxes, but after hearing Supt. Kenneth Flory discuss the possibility of a change in methods, members decided to hold off.

"The Higher Court ruling on the unconstitutionality feature of the present school taxing system appears to bringing about a change in the system," Flory said. "The Legislature has until next year to change the system and I would say our present methods will be altered at least, if not completely changed."

the footsteps of his father as a minister, told Mrs. Nester that he heard a rattlesnake while working near the house.

He went in and told his father and they went after the snake. After being hit by either a 22 bullet, a pitch fork or a shovel (they had all three weapons and I'm not certain which they used first) the snake crawled in a hole.

Young Russell said they pulled the snake out and out came four little snakes with two rattles each. While they were busy killing these out crawled four or five more.

And by the time they finished digging into the hole, the Franklins had killed the mama snake and 38 baby snakes!

I don't know if this is a record, but I do know it's a heck of a lot of snakes!

Hondo Fire Dept. goes back 63 years

For 63 years now, a group of men have given time from work, from play, and from their nightly rest to see that the horror of fire is not visited on the citizens of the Greater Hondo Area. They work for no pay, and yet for 63 years, there has been an abundance of men willing to serve. Today, a full waiting list speaks for the pride and honor of membership in the Hondo Volunteer Fire Department.

In December of 1961, the Anvil Herald delved back in to the back issue file to obtain information concerning the early days of the Fire Department.

The following are excerpts:

"The VFD was organized July 2, 1909. First officers were J. D. Brown, president; S. G. Morgan, secretary; Hugh Woods, treasurer; C. J. Bless, fire chief; Fritz Martin, inspector; and Frank Cockrell, assistant inspector.

"The official name selected was the Hondo Volunteer Fire Company No. 1. The city was divided into four wards. A general alarm was to be sounded by 10 short whistles, with one whistle to identify ward 1, two for ward 2, three for ward 3, and four for ward 4.

"Fletcher Davis, C. J. Bless and Hugh Woods were appointed as a committee to solicit funds.

"The original fire wagon was made by Jack Holloway and Walter Mask and was delivered approximately six months after the VFD organized.

"According to an Anvil Herald description of the hook and ladder wagon in 1910, it "consists of a series of ladders sufficient to mount the top of any building in town, a pair of hooks, a series of chemical fire extinguishers, water buckets, axes, picks, crowbars, etc. All is loaded on the frame of a light Studebaker wagon so arranged as to be pulled by hand wherever it is wanted."

"Fletcher Davis was elected president in August 1911. One of the standing rules required members absent for two meetings to pay fines of 10 cents or "their names were turned in to the Road Overseer for road service duty, the VFD minutes revealed.

Following are excerpts from the VFD records:

"W. F. Miller was appointed to shake up the soda in the chemical engine." (June 10, 1912.)

"Secretary was fined 50 cents for losing the membership list." (Nov. 8, 1915)

"Decided to stir up interest to buy a Ford truck for chemical engine." (Dec. 11, 1916)

"Decided to sound the fire siren every Wednesday night at 7:30, notice to be put in the Anvil Herald." (March 11, 1925)

"Decided to buy lot where firehouse is on for $1,400." (Oct. 6, 1927)

"Records show that rent at rate of $5 per month was paid from July 1931 to Dec. 1935." (April 3, 1930)

"Fire chief reported a fire at Red and White Store had done damages to building in the amount of $3,400 and $3,000 to contents. Decided to have Semi-annual street dance the Saturday before Mother's Day." (Mar. 7, 1946)

"Each fireman's wife is to bake one cake and get one other woman to bake a cake and the Fire Department is to furnish the sugar." Fire Dept. records don't say what for! (Aug. 23, 1946)

Wiemers makes pharmacy honor roll

AUSTIN--The University of Texas has named Onis Corwin Wiemers to the College of Pharmacy honor roll for the 1972 spring semester. Wiemers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Wiemers, of 1106 30th St. in Hondo.

Students qualifying for the honor roll accumulated a total of at least 36 grade points (B average) for the semester. Total grade points are calculated by multiplying the number of semester hours undertaken by the value of each grade. (A equals 4 points.) A total of 180 students were named on the honor roll.

FIRE TRUCKS LIKE THIS ONE

... cost money, and lots of it. But Chief Charlie Lutz, Assistant Chief Hilmer Mueller, and President Elmo Pope, along with Vice-President Hilmer Lutz, (not shown), hope to make a big dent in the debt with a successful Street Dance and Carnival Saturday night.

Fire Dept. had big beginnings

It was back in 1910 that Hondo decided to create a Volunteer Fire Department.

This year's Firemen's Street Dance and Carnival is in part to help finance the brand new firetruck which is now in use.

It's quite a change from 1910, when the first fire wagon was delivered to the fledgling Hondo Volunteer Fire Company No. 1, as they called themselves then.

The 1972 truck is powered by over a hundred horsepower. Back in 1910, manpower was the measure of the speed in which the firemen could respond to a call. Built especially for the Hondo Volunteers, Holloway Brothers' fire wagon was equipped with handles for pulling to and from the fire.

And it wasn't too long before the occasion arose to try out the new 1910 "hook and ladder wagon". In fact, quoting from a January 20, 1910 story from the Anvil Herald, the first fire was at the outhouse of Joe Fohn,

The retailer who thinks that advertising can sell a product when there is no demand will certainly be disappointed in advertising.

This does not mean that advertising cannot pioneer in creating demand. Demand is always on the threshold of change. The most successful of all merchants are those who anticipate a change in demand and use advertising to claim a fresh market.

At one time American grocery shopping was done on Saturday. Today, grocery buying is spread over the entire week. The change is the result of a changing way of living, working and eating. Successful grocers recognized the new demand and adjusted advertising policies accordingly.

which, according to the official minutes was "about turned out" when the alarm was turned in. Both small and large extinguishers were used.

Local Business

Toys and gift items were once seasonal items. Today the toy and gift business is a four billion dollar market, which brings a steady ring of the cash register from January through December.

The new demand for gifts results from higher incomes and changing social customs. Birthdays and minor holidays have become major occasions for gift buying. Parents and relatives returning from trips have come to regard gift buying as routine. For many, Christmas shopping has become a year-round hobby. Advertising does not create the conditions which cause people to demand new methods of selling and new products.

A major service of advertising is providing new information in harmony with constantly changing consumer needs.

"Carne de Res y de Aves de Corral--La Etiqueta es su Mejor Consejero."

Recognize the Spanish?

The USDA is now offering two pamphlets about tips on reading labels and caring for meat and poultry products. Mrs. Gaye Bippert, Medina County Extension county home demonstration agent, said, "Carne de Res y de Aves de Corral--La Etiqueta es su Mejor Consejero" (G-172-S) means "Meat and Poultry--Labeled for You." It features guides for reading labels and lists required information on all federally inspected meat and poultry products.

"Its purpose is to help consumers know what they're buying," Mrs. Bippert explained.

The second pamphlet, "Carne de Res y de Aves de Corral--Como Cuidar Sus Comestibles" (G-174-S), means "Meat and Poultry--Care Tips for You."

"This booklet provides information on buying, storing, handling and cooking meat and poultry products," the home demonstration agent said.

"It describes the proper cooking temperatures for different cuts of meats and recommends storage times for fresh and frozen products. It also tells how to wrap meats and poultry for storage and gives tips on cleanliness to avoid food poisoning."

The agent pointed out that free copies of each publication are available. Send a postcard with your name, address and zip code to Office of Information, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

"Ask for the pamphlets by title and number," Mrs. Bippert stressed. "For copies in English, request G-172 and G-174."

Give iron to anemic plants

By Glenn Bragg

If ornamental plants around your home are yellowing between the leaf veins, iron deficiency in the soil is the likely problem.

According to County Agricultural Agent Glenn Bragg, iron deficiency causes leaves of ornamental plants to become light green, yellow or white between the veins. "The more severe the deficiency, the paler the color," notes Bragg. "In extreme cases, the plant turns brown and eventually dies."

Even though soil may contain sufficient iron, high pH or high amounts of calcium in the soil in most areas of Medina County may prevent the iron from being available to plants, points out the agent.

Where iron is deficient, iron chelates or organic compounds containing a soluble form of iron may be applied to the soil or plants. Iron sulfate, also called copperas, is one such organic compound. These supplemental materials are available at most farm and garden supply stores.

Bragg emphasizes to apply iron at the first sign of a deficiency. Iron-containing materials can either be worked into the soil around the base of the plant or be dissolved in water and sprayed onto the foliage. Follow the manufacturer's directions and suggested rate of application. In severe cases, plant recovery will be slow following applications.

Soil conditions which block the availability of iron may also have similar effects on other elements, points out Bragg. Soil that delivers less than adequate zinc may provoke weak terminal growth. This "Witch-es-broom" type growth may be thin and short. Zinc deficiency shows up often in pecan, peach, plum, flowering quince and apple trees as well as in pyracantha.

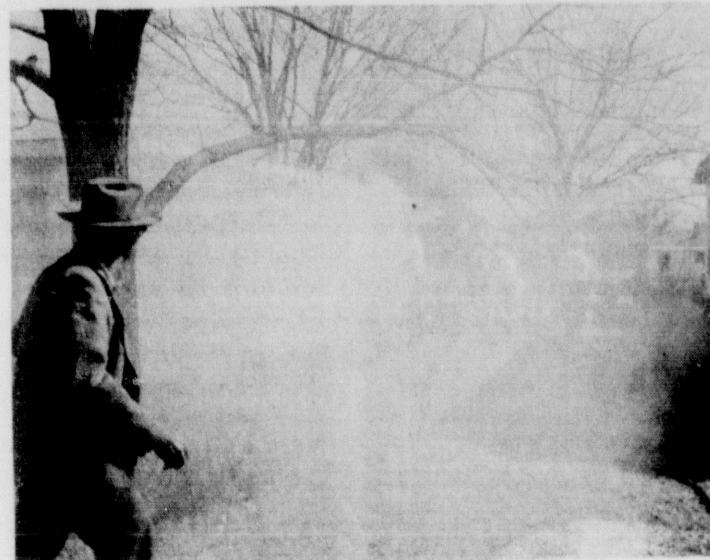

Plants with zinc deficiency will also have light green to yellow leaves that are small, distorted or puckered. Small dead areas may appear on the leaf margins and fall out to give a jagged appearance.

Zinc sulfate or zinc chelate applied at the manufacturer's recommended rate will correct zinc deficiencies.

The county agent reminds homeowners that other factors may bring on symptoms in plants similar to those of iron or zinc deficiency. Either over-watering or drought may cause yellowing of foliage of certain plant varieties. Heavy or compacted soils also cause yellowing, as do infestations of mites or leafhoppers. Insect infestations actually give a plant the appearance of iron chlorosis. For these reasons, examine the plant carefully for things that might be causing the discoloration before buying and applying either iron or zinc.

For further information about iron deficiency and soil pH problems with ornamentals, contact the county Extension Office. Two pamphlets that are available are L-164, "Soil Reaction (pH) Ranges", and L-435, "Iron Chlorosis".

Don't follow fire trucks

The one most attention-getting vehicle in any town is always the fire truck. Where it's going becomes an instant topic of conversation almost as soon as the red light and siren are noticed. This is partly out of concern for friends, partly because of fear that it may be our house that's burning. But whether for good or bad reason, this sort of curiosity is no reason to follow fire trucks.

Too often, the road to a burning building, car, or pasture becomes an expressway, and too often, the fire truck is not in the lead, but tied up in the parade of cars headed toward the blaze.

This is not only dangerous to those in the way of the trucks, but it delays the arrival of help where a person's life may depend on speed.

Fire Department spokesmen have repeatedly asked motorists to curb their curiosity, and police do their best to stop the practice, but fire truck-chasing continues.

A related problem is that of bystanders on the scene of the fire impeding the firemen from doing their most efficient work. Again, this is awkward, aggravating, and downright dangerous.

So, in the interests of speed, safety, and common courtesy, let us remember to refrain from following trucks or in any way holding back the Fire Department from fulfilling its important mission.

Marketing tips

"To make the most of your food dollar, follow marketing tips in your local food stores this week," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, emphasized.

Mrs. Clyatt noted that meat prices aren't showing much change this week, but some extra specials at some markets will ease the tension. In general, she said to look for beef chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and beef liver.

"Also," she added, "you might consider Boston butt roasts, pork shoulder steaks, smoked ham and ham portions as well as picnics and some brands of bacon."

According to the Texas A&M University specialist, poultry products still make thrifty meat and protein buys. Following the seasonal pattern, fryers and their parts remain features for summer cookouts.

Chicken hens also wear attractive prices in some markets. Both young and more mature turkeys rank as good buys, pricewise, and add variety and economy to menu planning.

"Vegetable counters boast economical offers," Mrs. Clyatt said. She named black-eyed, purple hull and cream peas, carrots, okra, cabbage, tomatoes, potatoes, cucumbers and peppers as plentiful items as the most economical price levels.

"The peach crop is in seasonal good supply and ready for canning, freezing or eating out-of-hand," she continued. "Peaches are perishable and won't last long, so buy today while quality is high."

Nectarines, seedless white grapes, plums, watermelons, cantaloupes, bananas and lemons also merit consideration, according to Mrs. Clyatt.

A steady stream of water brings a house trailer fire under control.

Baylor Homecoming plans told

WACO--Annual Homecoming activities at Baylor University are set for the weekend of Oct. 27 and 28, Raymond Vickrey, director of the Baylor Ex-Students Association, has announced.

Baylor tradition will rule the weekend with such activities as mass meetings, class reunions, receptions, Pigskin Revue, Singpiration, bonfire, pep rally, Cabaret, the Homecoming parade through downtown Waco and the selection of the Homecoming Queen.

But Homecoming will be a whole new ball game on the football field. Baylor alumni and students will be seeing the traditional game played with a new cast of characters and with a new backdrop.

New head football coach Grant Teaff and his coaching staff will be directing Baylor's 1972 football team against the Aggies from Texas A&M University in the Saturday evening game.

Now only will the Bears be under new leadership, but they also will be playing on the newly installed Astro-Turf in Baylor Stadium.

Highlighting Homecoming activities will be the announcement and presentation of two outstanding alumni for 1972.

Keep horses off sorghum-sudan pasture

Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, warns horseowners to keep their animals off sorghum-sudan pastures due to a disease called "sorghum cystitis". Freshly cut sorghum-sudan hay will also bring on the condition.

Armstrong points out that all horses may be affected but that the condition appears to be more serious in younger animals. A number of cases have been reported recently by Dr. William Romane who heads up the large animal clinic at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine.

"The first signs usually are incoordination of the rear legs," Armstrong explains. "In about half the horses observed this was followed by involuntary discharge or urine. Thus, mares may show hair loss on the inner part of the hind legs due to urine scalding. Geldings may have a loss of hair on the belly. In either case, the urine drip may be continuous and may become intense if the horse moves suddenly. The condition may also cause mares to abort."

Sorghum cystitis occurs most frequently during times of medium to high rainfall, usually from June to November, points out the veterinarian. It occurs mainly when horses feed on fast fresh growth of sorghum-sudan hybrids, sorghum grazer and Johnsongrass. Uncured or improperly cured hay from these grasses also causes the illness. However, horses eating well-cured hay from these three forages have not been affected. Also, no cases have been reported after the first frost.

"There is no cure for the condition once the horse has it," emphasizes Armstrong. "Several treatments have been used with little success. However, when affected animals are removed from the pasture and fed a balanced ration, they usually improved somewhat."

The urine discharge and incoordination have been observed in some horses for as long as three years, he notes.

Muennink Reunion set Sunday

The descendants of Frieda and Anke Muennink will hold their annual reunion at the Hondo City Park Sunday, August 20, 1972. Everyone is to bring a bas-

Computer cotton plagued with 'bugs'

COLLEGE STATION-- Somewhere in a Texas cotton field a maturing cotton plant is being surveyed by a boll weevil with dinner on its mind. The situation by itself is not too surprising; it happens millions of times each day. What is surprising is where all this is taking place.

The cotton plant and the boll weevil are in a computer--as part of an experimental program taking place at Texas A&M University and three other schools in the nation.

Scientists there are beginning to grow, on a day-by-day basis, theoretical cotton plants using computers. They utilize the computer's speed and ability to introduce a large number of variables in growing a cotton plant in less than a minute of computer time--quite a difference from the 200 days an experimental growth plot may take.

The idea is a recent one to agricultural research. Some of this pioneering work is being done by Dr. Donald Baker, a plant scientist at State College in Mississippi, who is consulting with Texas A&M in the development of their program.

Baker and his colleagues have developed a simulated cotton plant which responds to changes in the weather and other environmental influences. This program, called SMCOT II for simulated cotton, will be linked to a program being developed at Texas A&M that will predict the effect of parasitic insects on cotton pests. This program, appropriately, is to be called BUG.

It all means that, in the future, researchers will be able to simulate cotton plants and then predict the effects of such factors as weather, parasites, cultivation, insecticides and harvest time.

Though the program has obvious advantages to such researchers as agronomists and entomologists--not to mention farmers--another field, agricultural economics, stands to benefit, according to Dr. Ray V. Billingsley of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Billingsley, an economist with the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology at Texas A&M, believes that the data from the computer can be used to calculate the costs and returns of different cotton production and insect control methods. The computer will allow the economist to observe a greater number of cotton production methods and calculate their costs in a much shorter time.

The recent banning of DDT and other non-biodegradable (persistent) insecticides was used by Billingsley as an example of how certain factors influence the economics of farming. Since these insecticides are out, Billingsley said, the farmer may in the future use parasitic insects to control some cotton pests. The computer can predict the effect of the parasitic insects on the pests and allow an economic evaluation for the best control at the least cost.

Farmers need such research now, Billingsley said, even though the program has been given a three-year grant. He added that each method that seems feasible in the computer will be checked by work in experimental plots before the results are given to farmers.

Miss Joy Elizabeth Wells, bride-elect of Richard Lee Bonn, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower on July 24 at the home of Mrs. Norma Moore in Natalia.

Mrs. Douglas Tilley and Miss Mary Hartley assisted at the gift table. Mrs. Tilley and Mrs. Paul Stiefer led the group in playing two games. Refreshments of cake and punch were served to 25 guests.

Summer Reading Program helps 150 students

The two-months' Summer Reading Improvement program, which closed at the end of July 1972, is considered to have helped over 150 Hondo elementary and middle school students prepare to get more out of their school work this coming school year.

A total of 199 students enrolled in the program which was held each week day morning, 8-12, in the air-conditioned facilities of McDowell School.

The time was spent in a concentrated effort to upgrade the students' competence in reading. The amount of progress in reading comprehension, made during these two months, as measured by reading achievement tests, ranged up to 3.3 years. Some students, because of poor attendance or other reasons, did not achieve as expected, but it is felt that the program was highly successful.

Eight teachers and eight aides, and a head teacher were used in the program. The program was financed through Title I, ESEA.

Medina County to take big part in Folklife Festival

Medina County will be well represented at the first state Texas Folklife Festival to be held September 7-10 at the U. T. Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio, according to O. T. Baker, festival manager.

Five local men appointed festival ambassadors or key community contacts for the festival include Mayor S. R. Malone, J. Travis Lilly, Joe E. Briscoe and J. L. Young, all of Devine; and Charles L. Suehs, Castroville.

Arnold Griffin, Devine rancher-contractor, will direct an actual pioneer log house raising; arrange rail splitting contests; and set up a protected "live Bee Tree" in a special Indian Village to be constructed on the Institute's 13-1/2 acre Hemisfair site.

Devine blacksmith Sherrill Stroud will arrange and judge horse shoeing contests between other Texan blacksmiths, one of 15 games and contests that can be enjoyed at the festival. Other events scheduled are pitching dollars, marbles, domino tournaments, Indian tribal games, Japanese judo or karate exhibitions and zany cow calling, watermelon seed spitting and crawfish racing contests.

The festival brings together the state's major cultural groups to show the many ways Texans have had fun and Arnold Griffin's Log House Raising will illustrate how even types of work have been turned into forms of fun. In early Texas, a new family arriving in a community with no house to live in found neighbors who came to their aid with a Pioneer House Raising, followed by a party to celebrate the completion of the new home. The broad statewide support of the festival's construction of a two room log house with dog run is indicated by the many sources supplying the talent and building materials. The 100 logs will be furnished by Southland Paper Mills, Lufkin, a member of the Texas Forest Association. Boards will be supplied by the Yamboree Festival, Gilmer. Rafters will be shaped from Cedar poles loaned by the Texas Tourist Development Agency from Kerrville. Lime will be made at the festival from oyster shells supplied from Bay City and limestone brought from Frio County. Stone blocks for the foundation and chimney will come from Medina County. Mud bricks will arrive from Kendall County. The workmen who wield the broad axe, foot adz, free and other pioneer tools will come from all over Texas. Ax men include Jim Snyder and John Daniels, Nacogdoches. Demonstrating the free and foot adz are W. B. Keel and Ronnie Keel, Gilmer.

The huge cooperative house raising is being eyed for more than one documentary film to be made during the state festival. Festival officials now estimate they have 500 participants from 83 Texas cities and 400 from the Alamo City participating at the September state party.

If you are building or remodeling your home, it's evident that you are trying to make life better for your family. And that's what clean, electric climate-control is all about. You can have the right temperature 365 days a year by merely setting the thermostat.

An electric comfort conditioning system provides clean, flameless electric heat during the cold winter months, and cool, moisture-free air in the hot summertime. And it's all controlled from one thermostat. (Homes with year-round comfort conditioning also are easier to sell if you decide to move. In fact, homes without it may soon be obsolete).

So, contact your City Electric system and find out about the clean efficiency and economy of year-round climate control. It'll be the smartest move you ever made!

Electricity — the cleanest energy you can use.

Owl pre-season drills begin

Pre-season football conditioning drills began at 8 a. m. Monday for 136 Owl hopefuls.

Head Coach James Bohls pronounced the initial practice session as "pretty good" but admitted that the non-contact work doesn't allow a very thorough look at a football prospect.

First day's work included calisthenics, agility drills, and drills on the bare fundamentals of the game. The non-contact sessions have continued twice daily until the final round this evening.

Tomorrow (Friday) morning, the boys will don pads and helmets for the more businesslike pursuit of head-knocking, as contact drills finally begin.

A practice session is planned Saturday to allow the coaches to take every opportunity to look at the talent on their hands and decide who goes where before the scrimmage against Southside on August 25.

First scrimmage set

The Owls will hold their first scrimmage of the 1972 pre-season on August 25 at Barry Field, against the Southside team from San Antonio.

Time for the scrimmage has not been set, although it will be at 7 or 7:30.

The controlled game will give coaches on both sides a good chance to observe and evaluate their teams in the heat of battle in a way that is not possible in intra-squad games.

The B-Squad will hold their first scrimmage one week later, against Sabinal, in Sabinal.

The first regular season game for the Owls is against Floresville, on September 8.

San Antonian injured in wreck

A San Antonio man is hospitalized with injuries received when his 1968 Mustang struck a tractor-trailer rig head-on about 7/10 mile East of Hondo on Highway 90. The accident occurred about 12:45 a. m. Friday, August 11.

Juan Martinez, Jr. of Speers Avenue, San Antonio, was taken to a San Antonio hospital by ambulance, due to a heavy rain which prevented the use of MAST helicopter. He was admitted with severe leg and internal injuries. A second occupant of the Martinez car fled the scene, but was found uninjured the next day.

The accident occurred when Martinez, traveling west, crossed the centerline and struck the eastbound truck. An auto following the truck and driven by Lawrence Jahns of Seguin was struck by flying debris from the collision, but he was not injured.

Driver of the truck is identified as Charles Garrett, 47, of Clovis, New Mexico.

Police probe theft

Hondo Police are investigating the theft of $535 in tools and merchandise from the Jake Schuehle Ford Company early Sunday morning.

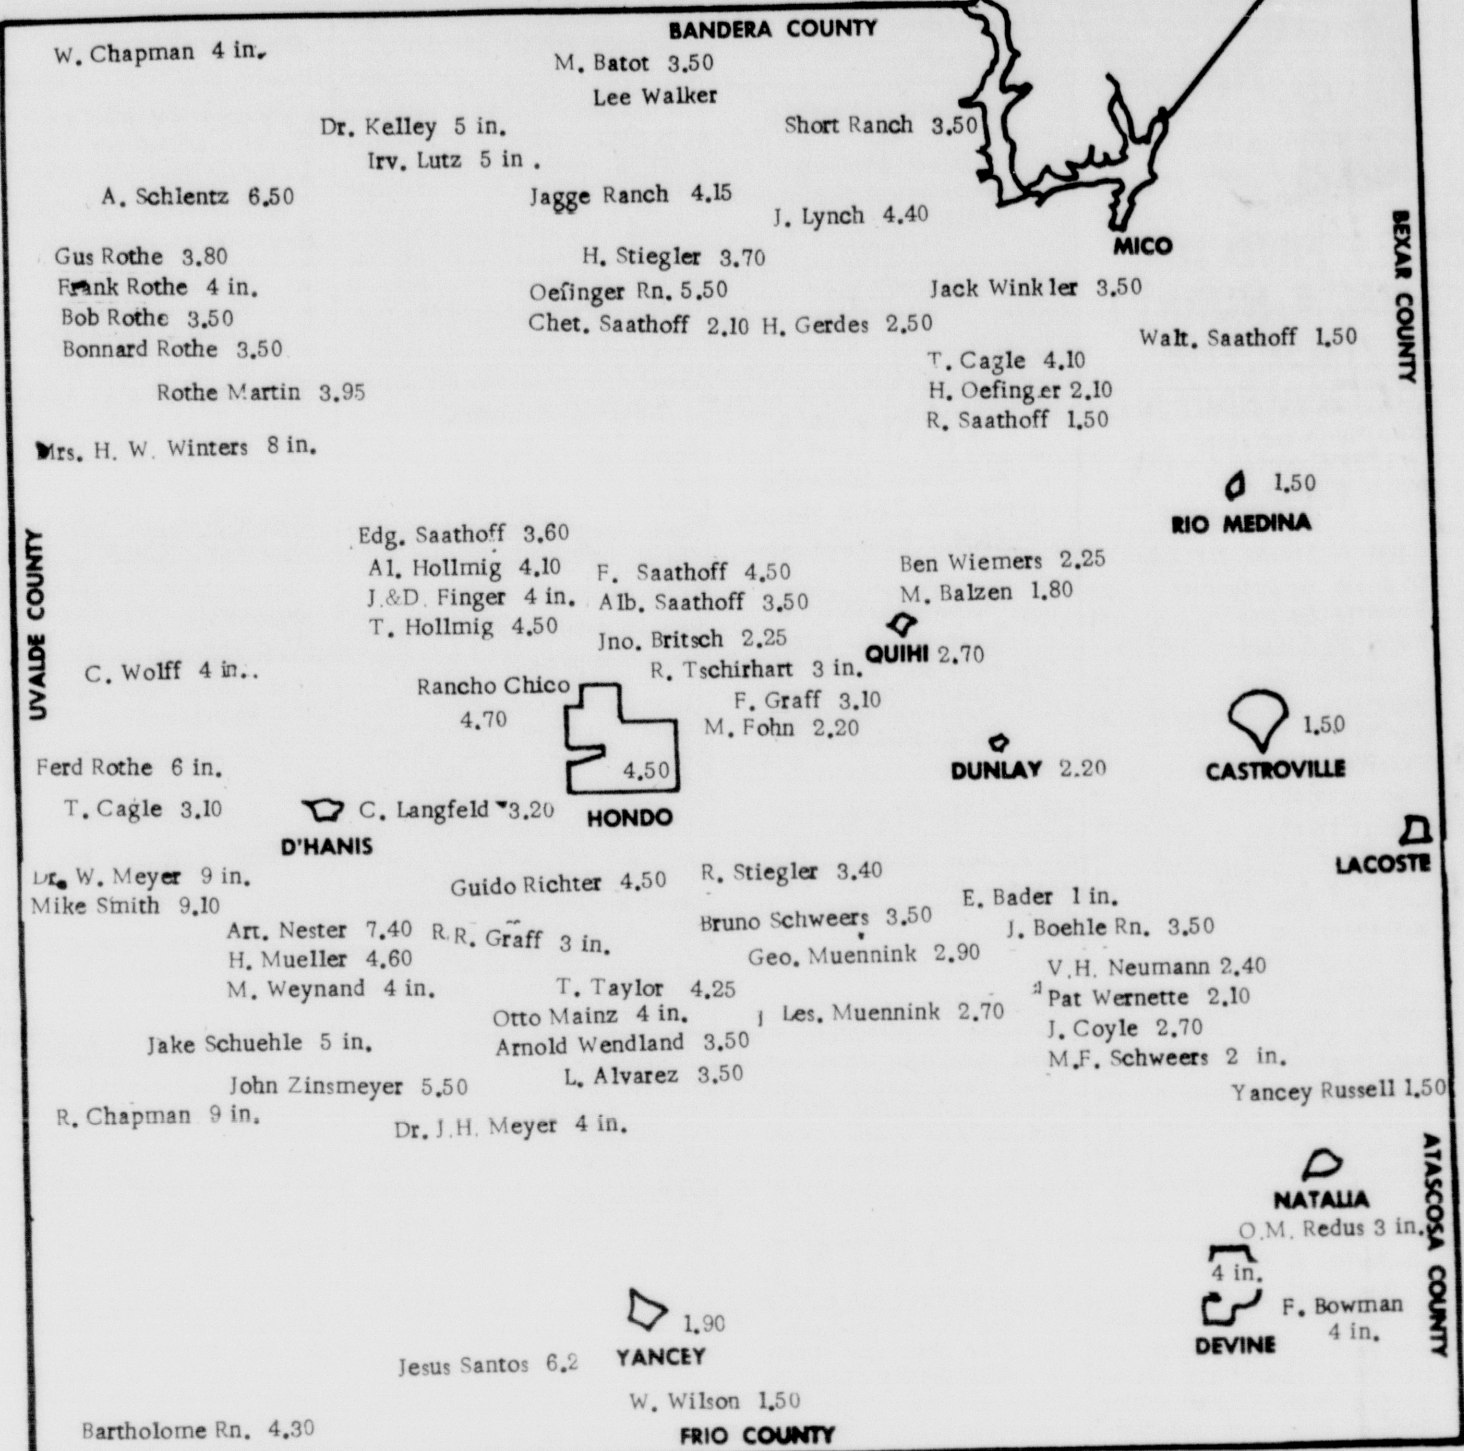

The break-in was discovered by Hondo Police about 8 a. m. and occurred some time between midnight and early Sunday morning.

Stolen were a micrometer valued at $85, a $150 adding machine, and tools valued at $300.

A spokesman for the firm said some additional tools are missing but they belong to an employee on vacation and he may have taken the tools when he left. Entry into the building was made by breaking the glass on a rear door.

Rains of Aug. 9-12.

Un-official Weather

Taylor-Chapman Service

It's tough to do justice to a daily weather forecaster in a weekly newspaper. You just have to have faith in the sequence of these reports handed in by Doc Taylor this week.

Tuesday, Aug. 15, "You good readers of the Herald will recall our prediction that rain would occur 'a-round' the 9th of August. Well, it went 'way around'. (see rain map) With the disturbance along the Gulf Coast today (Tues.) we can expect more showers in this area."

Wednesday, Aug. 16,

"The big thunderstorm that developed in this area yesterday around 6 p. m. was cause for a severe weather alert for Medina County put out by the U. S. Weather Bureau. No rain fell in or near Hondo. However, northeast of Hondo, about 20 miles, the Short Ranch (E. J. L.) and the Jack Winkler ranch received nice rains--1.30 on the Short Ranch, and 1.20 on the Winkler place."

There it is, Doc. They'll have to believe you now.

Oh, yes. The Doctor's cenizo bush is blooming again.

Volunteers demonstrate a play as coaches and team members look on.

Mass coverage is the lesson being taught by Coach Carroll to freshmen gridgers.

Generation Two to be unveiled

A gala Open House for all the farmers in the area has been slated on Saturday, August 19, at the Hondo Implement Co. in Hondo and Bexar-Medina Implement Co. in LaCoste, according to an announcement from owners L. E. Pope, E. J. Keller and A. T. Schiffer.

The owners promise to unveil Generation Two, the biggest advance in tractors since John Deere introduced the New Generation Tractors 12 years ago.

All three men recently attended a two-day meeting at Waterloo, Iowa, where the new line was introduced to all John Deere dealers. They say their enthusiasm was very high, particularly after they and other dealers had operated the new tractors. While they cannot discuss specific details until August 19, Pope, Keller and Schiffer said it will be to every farmer's advantage, especially from a health and comfort standpoint, to attend the Open House and learn all the facts about the new John Deere Tractor.

The Open House will begin at Hondo and LaCoste locations at 8 a. m. and last through 5 p. m. Refreshments will be served all day and door prizes will be awarded.

Generation II

Arriving Saturday August 19

It's the biggest tractor announcement day in more than ten years. It's August 19 — the day you can enter Generation II and meet four new tractors from John Deere ranging from 80 to 150 hp. It's the day you can start farming more safely — in greater comfort and luxury. It's an all-day affair you simply can't afford to miss. Refreshments will be served and door prizes awarded.
